

Turn a maintenance challenge into a structured pilot.

Property managers need a route that fits access, budgets, operating schedules and measurable decisions across commercial, residential and public facilities.

Start with the operating challenge, not a generic coating claim.

01

Persistent odor

Locate source and operating pattern.

02

Multiple substrates

Separate surfaces and preparation routes.

03

Access windows

Plan around tenants and operations.

04

Scale potential

Document a repeatable first site.

A three-product conversation with evidence boundaries.

01 MEK-01s

A focused first route for odor-related opportunities.

02 MEK-03s

Pre-treatment tied to surface and contamination review.

03 NANOBEST ST

A coating route for selected surfaces and environments.

A pilot should define baseline, method, representative conditions and the commercial decision. Results from one site should not be generalized automatically.
